iBEE
Innovation in Built Environment Education

RICS

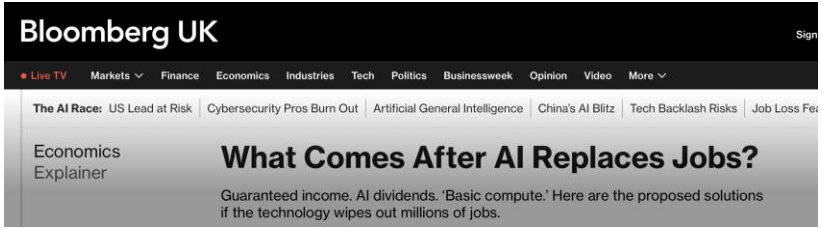

Keynote / Think piece - AI and Education

Chris de Gruben, Senior Director, Artefact

Graduate job vacancies drop by almost 50% in a year, survey suggests yahoo!finance

AI Is Really Really Taking Jobs Today

The New York Times

China's New Graduates, Facing a Dire Job Market, Must Also Contend With A.I.

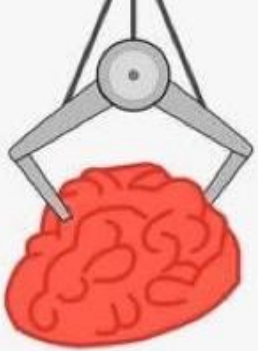

A record 12.7 million young people are looking for jobs as the country embraces artificial intelligence — and as the technology begins to upend the work force.

Bill Gates: Ban AI from taking some jobs from humans

Billionaire suggests governments tax businesses on their use of artificial intelligence and robotics

THE TIMES

‘Godfather of AI’ warns of catastrophic consequences for humanity

Geoffrey Hinton has called on the government to prohibit the development of superpowerful AI systems, as losing control could ‘lead to human extinction’

The Telegraph News Sport Business Money Travel Tools Opinion Ukraine Health Recommenc

Economy Companies Markets Tech

Courts and councils are drowning in AI-generated complaints

A deluge of computer-generated claims threatens to

Reuters

AI could pose ‘existential’ risk to humanity, UN rights chief warns

U.N. rights chief Volker Turk warned on Monday that artificial intelligence could become powerful enough to threaten humanity,...

The UAE is one of the first countries to launch a K-12 AI curriculum. That means kids as young as 5 or 6 years old are now taking AI classes. I sat down with Education Minister @SarahAmiri1 to find out the vision for the program and what exactly it'll look like:

